but half the story, the other half is told in the quality you get and the satisfaction you receive.

Tis you right, nay, more your duty to buy the cheapest, but the lowest priced is not always—in fact, seldom ever is—the cheapest.

It is only when extraordinary quality is joined with extremely low prices that a garment can be truthfully termed cheap.

In the wool—sheep's wool—hair-line, cassimere trousers we are selling for $3.00. These two are joined and with them perfection of fit, exact workmanship and guaranteed satisfaction.

Same Price To All.

To-DAY William C. Oates, Governor-elect of Alabama, will be formally inaugurated at Mobile.

The Governor's record as a member of Congress, and especially his identification with the emigration question, makes him one of the most notable of Southern political leaders. For the first time in the history of the State, there are threats to set up a rival government.

Whatever rivalry there may be in Alabama, certainly nothing can rival the suits made from our select lines of imported fabrics, or the superb overcoats we make from our unexcelled stock of Beavers and Meltons. The style and finish of our garments are beyond compare, and our prices will please you.

THEY ALL GO HOME*TRANS-MISSISSIPPI CONGRESS COM-PLETES ITS WORK.

Resolutions are Passed. Prominent among which are Strong Expressions in favor of Statehood for Oklahoma and the Indian Territory. Officers Appointed.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 30.—The final day of the Trans-Mississippi congress opened with a light attendance, most of the members having left for home last night. The order of business this morning was unanimous, vice presidents and members of the executive committee. The transaction on resolutions was begun and the following expressions were adopted as the sense of the congress: Endorsing the recommendations of the recent miners convention at San Francisco favoring action of congress extending the powers of the Carey and land act to the territories; urging congress to pass an enabling bill for admission of Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona into the union, as states favoring the allotment of the lands of five civilized tribes; the creation of a state or territorial government with complete control jurisdiction over the Indians of all the parts of the Territory to Oklahoma and the admission of single statehood with that territory. This was adopted. The convention then took a recess for dinner.

At the afternoon session a very short time sufficient to complete the work of the day, the committee on routine matters were considerable, especially in the way of designating the disposition of the completed business, its presentation to the proper authorities, etc.

The resolutions of the recent deep winter convention at Toronto, Canada, were referred to the executive committee with power to act, also as a resolution governing the restoration of the sugar bounty included in the act of 1890. The executive committee was given authority to present the sense of the congress and if it deemed best, provide such action had a two-thirds sanction. The business of the congress being concluded, adjourned until nine o'clock.

IT IS UNCERTAINGERMAN MARKET DON'T AMOUNT TO MUCH ANYHOW.

So Says Special Agent Matthes, Now
Inspecting the Markets of Germany.—The Fatherland good for a Large Enough Production for Home Use—Poor Can't Afford Meat.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Secretary Morton is in receipt of a communication from Mr. John Matthes Jr., special agent of the department of agriculture in Germany referring to the possibilities of extending the markets in that country for American meats. Mr. Matthes writes under date of November 18, as follows:

"Last year German farmers and stock breeders were compelled to sell their cattle irrespective of price and condition. It was then predicted that Germany would be short on beef cattle, resulting in a rapid advance in the price of meat, which would give foreign meat exporters an opportunity to establish themselves in the German market."

"I have visited many of the principal German cities and paid attention to the sale of imported meats, but in my opinion Germany will never become a large consumer of foreign meat, because of the consumption of American cattle products and other meat products in cans may increase in such abnormal years, but under normal conditions, it may be said that the foreign classes cannot allow themselves the luxury. The more fortunate are as a rule reasonably prejudiced against foreign meats."

"The sale of imported fresh meats is however, conducted with many difficulties and possibly with great loss to the exporters, brought about by the local regulations. At the best the business always rests upon a speculative foundation."

CANNOT DESCRIBE.
Attorney Howe Unable to Characterize the Rapacity of Roosevelt.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 30.—The petition of D. W. Howe, attorney for the order of Iron Hall, asking that the allowance of Hawkins and Smith, lawyers for Attorney Failey and to Recover Failey be set aside, was argued on December 2d before Judge McMaster today.

Referring to the allowances allowed the lawyers and receiver, Attorney Howe said that the attorney was almost impossible to describe and the method of calculation was not clear. The attorney said:

"While it was considered that the receiver did not personally perform all the duties but had an army of clerks, helpers and entourage a great number of expenses in the office, and attorneys' fees in the office were paid over to them, there was paid over to the receiver all his money, at an expense of over $10,000. The allowances to the receiver were quite enormous. But when it is considered that an attorney for 10 years has been kept, according to his bill of costs, he got over $10,000 deposited in his name, of which he never and his son-in-law were the owners, undoubtedly it is hardly the word."

Attorney Howe did not always transact business through the lawyers, but through others, addressed the court, saying that he was not concerned about sending fees down in which he knew justification deserved. He said, "I will give a decision in a few days."
